SEVENTY-THREE
ON DANE VESSEL

Besides the Crew and No Flag

by the Dane.

NO CONTRABAND CARRIED

Representatives of the Line Do
Not Believe the Captain Will Try to Escape.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—When the White Star freighter Dane sighted an eastward bound submarine in the Atlantic yesterday morning it was apparently in pursuit of a Danish passenger steamer, Hellig Olav, according to observers on the deck of the Dane, which arrived here today.

The nationality of the submarine was not identified. The Dane, in fear of attack, because of being a freight ship, put on full steam and headed directly west. At the time it passed out of sight of the other two vessels the Danish boat still seemed to be attempting to escape from the submarine.

The weather was clear and the Hellig Olav was between two and three miles distant at the moment it was first observed with the submarine about one mile to the Dane's stern. This was about 8:30 a. m. when the Dane was approximately 200 miles east of New York.

The Hellig Olav left here Thursday for Copenhagen and other Scandinavian ports, carrying thirty-six passengers in the first cabin, thirty-seven in the second cabin and stateroom passengers. Many of those in the cabins were Americans.

At the time it was sighted by the Dane, the Hellig Olav was flying no flag, but its identity was established by its name and the Danish flag painted in its side.

Representatives of the Scandinavian-American line said here today that the Hellig Olav carried no contraband and that they did not believe it captain would undertake to escape from a submarine. The line has sent a wireless message to the ship asking for an account of the circumstances.

BOGUS CHECK
PAIR SOUGHT
BY OFFICERS

Couple Who Swindled Wheeling
Merchants May Be in This City or Vicinity.

Police were Saturday on the lookout for two bogus check artists, who disappeared from Wheeling October 1, and who are thought to be in this city. Warning of the presence of the criminals was given to the local board of trade by the Wheeling Commercial Association, and local police were notified.

The pair is composed of a man and woman, who pass as husband and wife. In Wheeling they went under the name of J. C. and Anna Stewart and said they came from Reading, Pa. The Wheeling commercial body, in its letter to the local board of trade, said that the couple might try to pass checks here, signed either James or Florence Gary. Gary is the name of the man from whom they rented a room while in Wheeling and from whom, it is alleged, they stole a fox fur neck piece, bath robe, book form and marriage certificate.

The local board of trade investigated Saturday morning and found that no attempt had been made by either of the people to pass bogus checks in Clarksburg, but City Detective L. L. White has not relaxed his vigilance.

The man is described as being between 27 and 30 years old; five feet, eight inches in height; dark hair, florid complexion, and wears glasses. The woman is said to be between 30 and 35 years of age; height, five feet and three inches; weight, between 130 and 140 pounds. She is a decided blonde.

BORDER EMERGENCY
REMAINING THE SAME

Wilson Declares in Letter to Whitman but He Hopes for Better Things.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 14.—President Wilson in a letter to Governor Whitman, of New York, sent October 9, and made public here today, declared that the emergency which caused the sending of the militia to the Mexican border "unhappily still exists."

He added, however, that he believed conditions in northern Mexico are improving and that "in the near future" it probably will be possible to do more than has been done to relieve the embarrassments under which organized militia regiments have necessarily suffered.

President Wilson wrote to Governor Whitman in answer to a letter from the New York executive regarding the New York militia organization on the border. The president told Mr. Whitman it was impossible to set a date on which the remaining New York regiments there could be released.

The president in his letter declared that he had been advised by the war department that the withdrawal of the militia at any time since they had been ordered to the border would have "in all human likelihood been followed by fresh aggressions from Mexico on the lives and property of people of the United States."

In his letter the president paid a high tribute to the character of the militiamen on the border, and denied that any organizations were being kept there to perfect military training.

REVIVAL PLANNED IS AT STEALEY HEIGHTS

Methodist Episcopal Congregation
Puts Wheels in Motion for Great Meetings.

At the meeting of the official board of the Stealey Heights Methodist Episcopal church a recent night plans were made for a revival of large proportions. No special services were held last year because of the lack of a suitable place in which to hold them. Now that the new church is completed and dedicated, a revival campaign was felt to be the next work.

Accordingly the church community was divided into six sections and a captain was elected for each section to conduct home prayer services and personal work. These home meetings are to continue for three weeks. November 5-12 is to be observed as Win-My-Chum week by the Epworth League with a unique program of speakers and services. This week of services is to be followed by the revival proper. According to present plans, the pastor the Rev. C. W. Wise, will have charge of the meetings, being his own evangelist.

Personal workers teams composed of the men and women of the church will make an every-member fellowship canvass tomorrow afternoon preparatory to the home prayer meetings which will begin Monday night. The following are the several sections with their captains and the schedule of meetings for Monday night:

BACON REBUKES
MR. WILSON
KEENLY

For Some of the Latter's Utterances against Loyal American Citizens.

POINTS OUT WEAKNESSES

Calls upon Him to Show the Spirit of Forefathers and to Discuss the Issues.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Replying to the attack made upon him by President Wilson in the course of his speech at Shadow Lawn last Saturday, Robert Bacon has addressed the following open letter to Mr. Wilson:

"Sir, in your capacity of candidate for public office you have seen fit in a public address to criticize more than 140,000 citizens of this state who honored me with their votes at the recent primaries. With the intention of making it appear that my candidacy for the Republican senatorial nomination was supported by men who would involve this country in war, you spoke of me as 'a man whose avowed position in respect to international affairs was unneutral and whose intention was, if he became a member of that great council upon international affairs at Washington, to promote the interests of one side in the present war in Europe.'"

"And you argued that 'if the Republican party should succeed, one very large branch of it would insist upon a reversal from peace to war.' 'The statement that it was my intention if elected senator to promote the interests of one side in the present war in Europe' and thereby violate my oath of office is beneath contempt. My respect for the office of president of the United States prevents me from characterizing such a statement as it deserves. I leave the judgment of its falsity to the public. Either you have not read what I have said many times publicly on the subject of neutrality, or you have deliberately misstated my attitude in an attempt to raise a false issue. With the accurate, carefully considered arrangement of your foreign policy by Mr. Hughes, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Root, I am proud to agree. In your anger and desperation as the ring of truth closes in about you, you seem to be trying to make a false issue. You say that your re-election means peace, and that Mr. Hughes's election means war. Of course nothing could be farther from the truth."

"It is inconceivable that a president of the United States should insult the intelligence of the American people. The statement that a large number of your fellow citizens because they condemn your weak, vacillating policy wish to plunge this country into the horrors of war, is preposterous."

"The contention that you or the Democratic administration have kept this country out of war is specious and unfounded in fact. Vacillation, timidity, weakness in asserting our rights, inability to perform our duties, confusion of words, a constant change of attitude and threats, unsupported, cannot possibly keep this nation or any other out of war. It is the fear of those who will vote against you that such conduct of our foreign affairs will inevitably lead us into war. A strong determined, clear policy insures peace."

"It is unworthy to assert that a large number of your fellowmen, Americans of undivided allegiance, of whole faith, of sublime trust in the honor and righteousness of their country would seek to plunge the United States into the horrors of war. Such a statement you must know to be false. If a million votes were to be yours for making such a misstatement, if you believed it to be the only way to win a desperate cause, you should scorn so to misrepresent the people of a country which has elected you to its highest place of trust."

"The issues of this campaign are vital to the welfare of the nation. I appeal to you, sir, as a candidate for the highest office, to present the issues squarely and fairly to the people and abide by their decision without stopping to inflame the prejudices of one class against another, or unworthily to impugn the motives or to insult the patriotism of loyal Americans who may differ from you."

"The American spirit, the spirit of our fathers, who believed in plain words backed by deeds, who stood for fair play, justice and courage has always been the safeguard of America. The Democratic party and the Republican party should not be afraid to trust to this spirit now, and to state the issues clearly with honest speech."
